Record Setting Year for Pro Bono Performance at Hunton & Williams

We are proud to announce that this has been a record setting year for pro bono at Hunton & Williams. Our lawyers have dedicated themselves to serving individuals and non-profits in need. The results are something to celebrate:

- 99% of our U.S. full-time attorneys were involved in pro bono
- 13 out of 14 of our U.S. offices had 100% pro bono participation
- 72,728 total pro bono hours in our U.S. offices (an increase of 44% from the last fiscal year)

While our pro bono statistics show a record year, the results we have received for pro bono clients are even more impressive:

- We dedicated more than 2,000 pro bono hours in 2008 to assist veterans obtain disability benefits
- We received asylum for an Afghani woman who would have faced persecution and even death should she have returned home
- We argued an international child abduction case in front of the Supreme Court of Virginia
- We helped non-profits across the country to deepen their commitment and direct services by offering free legal advice
- We advocated for children and victims of domestic violence to give them power and a voice in the legal system

As we begin FY 2010, we hope that you will continue to serve those in need.
